

apparition known to him in the world where the Lamb of God appears.

I was driving across the country a couple of weeks ago and it was wonderful to see the sheep and new born lambs out in the fields after the long winter. There was a great sense of life moving on, of energy and new birth.

Pope Francis has given the title, The Joy of the Gospel, to one of his writings. He writes "the Gospel offers us the chance to live life on a higher plane, but with no less intensity: Those who enjoy life most are those who leave security on the shore and become excited by the mission of communicating life to others".

Saint John XXIII once said that "the church is like an old village fountain and, from its tap, fresh water must always flow."

Reflecting on these words, Father Martin Hogan says that the church always has the responsibility to ensure that the fresh water of Jesus is always flowing.

In the Gospel today, Jesus speaks about the very close relationship that exists between the shepherd and his flock. As is said in the letter of St. Paul to the Thessalonians: "the one who calls you is faithful." (5:24).

The month of May is especially dedicated to Our Lady in the church. I remember the May altars at school when I was younger. Let us pray for the intercession of Our Lady especially during this month of May that she will guide and direct us to the work that her son Jesus wants us to do.

We might like to say a decade of the rosary or one of the familiar prayers like the Memorare:

"Remember, O most gracious Virgin Mary, that never was it known that anyone who fled to your protection, implored your help or sought your intercession was left unaided.

Inspired by this confidence, I fly unto you, O Virgin of virgins, my Mother; to you do I come, before you I kneel, sinful and sorrowful. O Mother of the Word Incarnate, despise not my petitions, but in your mercy hear and answer me.

Amen" Gerard Reilly

12th May 2019

Perhaps we might consider going on a retreat or simply taking some "time out" in the nearby National Botanic Gardens to appreciate the beauty of nature at this time of the year and to thank God for the many blessings in our lives.

The person reading today's Gospel has a relatively easy job as it is probably one of the shortest Sunday Gospel readings. But it is packed with meaning and resonance.

Today's Gospel speaks about sheep. St John tells us that Jesus said: "the sheep that belong to me listen to my voice." This image of sheep would have been much more familiar to the audience that St. John was writing for than it is for us today. Pope Francis has spoken about ministers having the "smell of their sheep", which suggests being close to the people they are caring for.

There is also a focus on listening in this parable. The sheep "listen" to the voice of Jesus. We too need to be attentive to the word of God in our lives. Father Martin Hogan says: "We need that element of silence in our lives in order to really listen to God's word."

Jesus assures us that: "I give them eternal life, they will never be lost and no one will ever steal them from me." Father Martin suggests that, in this reading, Jesus is telling us that "[he] won't let us go easily even if we are prone to wandering off." He adds; "the Lord who calls us is also working with us helping us to respond to his calling."

When referring to sheep and lambs. I often think how Jesus chose to appear as a lamb on the altar at the apparition at Knock. The Cistercian writer, Father Berchmans Walsh, said that Knock is the only

If you have a family member or friend or just know someone who is preparing for exams please feel free to place their names in the basket.
